

ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL FOUNDATION HOSTS 12TH ANNUAL CIRCLES OF LIFE FASHION SHOW AND LUNCHEON, JUNE 29

Local Cancer Patients and Survivors Model the Latest Fashions, Proceeds to Benefit the New Center for Cancer Prevention and Treatment at St. Joseph Hospital

ORANGE, Calif. (June 00, 2008) - The St. Joseph Hospital Foundation will be hosting its 12th annual Circles of Life Fashion Show and Luncheon “Gifts of Life,” on Sunday, June 29 at the Anaheim Marriot Hotel.

The show will feature fashions from some of Orange County’s favorite stores modeled by cancer survivors treated at St. Joseph Hospital. In keeping with this year’s theme, “Gifts of Life,” physicians, hospital staff, family, friends and community members are invited to celebrate the gift of these courageous model’s inspirational stories.

Proceeds from the event will support the hospital’s new 87,000 square-foot Center for Cancer Prevention and Treatment, which recently opened its doors. The center, which includes unique design elements such as skylights and soothing color palettes based on the input of former cancer patients, offers the country’s most innovative technology in cancer care and prevention.
